

HEAVY

Influx Of Visitors Is Not Seen.

London Not Making Much Fuss Over Coronation.

GOOD WEATHER IS PREDICTED FOR SATURDAY

KING WITNESSES REHEARSAL

Many Londoners are Taking Advantage of the Holiday to Leave the City Tomorrow.

London, Aug. 8.—There is as yet no sign of the expected heavy influx of visitors for the coronation tomorrow. On the contrary, hosts of Londoners are taking advantage of the holiday to go into the country.

Except for the decorations along the route which the royal party will follow from Buckingham Palace to the Abbey and return, there is no sign of anything unusual afoot. The quiet manner in which the people are taking this great event is in striking contrast to the conditions during the week preceding the postponement of the coronation in June. Then the streets were crowded and thoroughfares about the abbey made impassable by the great hordes of sightseers. In many places today there is not the usual business activity as a number of houses have closed down till Monday and the holiday keepers are either remaining at home or have gone outside the city to take full advantage of the rest. Buckingham Palace is the mecca of such visitors as are in the city today. They are hovering about the palace waiting to see the king but even there the crowd is not particularly large. Decorators are giving the final touches today along the coronation route. Piccadilly from Hyde Park to St. James street is lined with red poles, tipped with gilt and connected across and up and down with flags and streamers of all colors. Buildings along the route are decorated with crimson, blue and purple hangings, boarded with gold. White columns, surmounted with gilt crowns are the chief decoration feature of St. James street. Pall Mall is lavishly decorated. The final arrangements for the ceremony at the abbey are proceeding. A signal is being fixed from one of the galleries to the roof with which to notify the rooferman the moment the crown is placed on the royal head. When the rooferman gets his signal he will immediately communicate by telegraph to Hyde Park and the tower where artillerymen will fire cannon and thus notify the world that the moment to which the king and all England has been looking forward for nearly two years has come and Edward is crowned.

Election Tumble.

Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 8.—Knoxville was the storm center yesterday and last night of the most exciting election ever held in this section of the south. The leading features were three men shot, and an officer of the election stole the ballot boxes and refused to hold the election. Citizens were refused applications to see the ballots counted and the result is that many districts will not be heard from for an indefinite period. The men shot are Robert Burnett, Jay Conner and Budge Suowalter. Burnett is fatally shot.

To Wed Englishman.

Cleveland, Aug. 8.—May Harrington Hanna who secured a divorce from Senator Hanna's son Dan will wed a titled Englishman in the fall. He belongs to King Edward's set, but his name is not divulged.

PYTHIANS ARRIVING.

San Francisco, Aug. 8.—Visitors have begun arriving in large numbers for the Pythian convale. Everything is in readiness. The receptions, entertainment, decorations and electrical illuminations are the most elaborate ever attempted here.

TRACY'S BODY

Guarded All Day by Men Who Want the Reward That Has Been Offered.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 8.—The remains of Outlaw Tracy arrived here this morning in care of Constable Straub of Wilbur and were reshipped to the penitentiary at Salem, Oregon. The squabbling over the rewards has begun. Four men of Creston who did the shooting which brought about Tracy's death, lay claim to all the reward. They guarded the corpse yesterday with rifles.

FIFTY HOUSES BURNED.

Port Au Prince, Hayti, Aug. 8.—Fire at midnight destroyed a half hundred houses in this city; loss $200,000. No casualties resulted.

Diamonds Found.

San Francisco, Aug. 8.—It is reported that genuine diamonds have been discovered along Nelson creek in the northern part of Plumas county and many prospectors have gone to the scene.

ROOSEVELT

CRITICISED BY BRYAN WHO PUTS QUESTIONS FOR ANSWER.

President's Speech at West Point a Bloodthirsty Utterance—Will Roosevelt Answer These Questions

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 8.—Wm. J. Bryan severely criticises President Roosevelt in the Commoner of yesterday, and says his speech to the cadets at West Point was "bloodthirsty". He makes this quotation from that speech:

"A good soldier must not only be willing to fight; he must be anxious to fight. I do not want to have anything to do with him if he is not."

On this utterance Mr. Bryan comments as follows:

"When he (Roosevelt) said this he turned a light upon his inner self and revealed a moral deformity which must shock such of his friends as are not wholly carried away with the bloody and brutal grasp of imperialism."

"The academy at West Point is the training school for officers. It teaches those things which are considered necessary in war, namely, care of the men in camp and on the march and tactics. These cadets are not selected because they are by nature ferocious; they are not kept chained like savage dogs and let loose occasionally to gratify their passion for mischief; they are, on the contrary, men who are educated as a precautionary measure and kept in readiness for a possible contingency. It is no reflection upon the courage, the efficiency or the patriotism of an officer in the regular army to say that he hopes that the army will never be called upon to kill or even wound a single human being any more than it would be a reflection on a fireman to say that he hopes that there will be no conflagration in his city."

Questions for Roosevelt to Answer.

Bryan has propounded some questions for the President to answer. In the Commoner he says:

"Mr. Roosevelt is soon to start on one of the most ambitious stumping tours ever attempted by an occupant of the White House. He will endeavor to defend his administration against the criticism which has been directed against it, and he should be aided by suggestions from his opponents. For instance, Mr. Roosevelt might answer the following questions:

"Why not apply the Declaration of Independence to the Philippines?"

"Why not begin criminal action against the Beef Trust millionaires as well as against small criminals?"

"Are you in favor of the Fowler bill with its asset currency, its branch banks and its redeemable silver dollar?"

"Why not take the tariff off trust-made articles?"

"These questions present issues upon which he should enlighten the public."

CURED

Of Lockjaw By a New Process.

Antitoxin Injected In Spinal Cord.

TWO OF THE LAD'S TEETH WERE KNOCKED OUT

TO INSERT A TUBE IN MOUTH

In Order to Nourish Him—After Fifteen Days the Boy's Jaws Relaxed

New York, Aug. 8.—Joseph Tiernan, the nine year old son of "Silent Mike" Tiernan, for many years a member of the New York base ball team, has been discharged from the Harlem Hospital cured of lock-jaw by a new process. The boy shot himself in the hand July 4 and was taken to the hospital July 12 with lockjaw. The experiment of injecting antitoxin in the spinal cord between the first and second vertebrae was tried and fifteen days afterward the boy's jaws relaxed. Two of the youngster's teeth were knocked out while his jaws were locked in order to insert a tube in his mouth to nourish him.

BARBER SHOP

Tarred and Then Feathered—Barber's Comment is "Isn't it a Bird?"—Non-Union Shop.

Ironton, Ohio, Aug. 8.—The shop of Edward Harbregger, a non-union barber within fifty yards of the police station, was ornamented with a coat of tar and feathers last night and loomed up in fine feather this morning. The decorators painted the barberpole, windows, doors, and front of the building with tar and then applied the feathers in quantity. Harbregger has no idea who perpetrated the deed. His only comment was: "Isn't it a bird?"

CODE BILL

ROUGH DRAFT SUBMITTED TO GOVERNOR NASH

Reported in Columbus Today That the Supreme Court is Hopelessly Divided on the Bill.

Camp McKinley, Aug. 8.—Last night Senator Longworth and Wade Ellis with Secretary of State Laylin, came over from Columbus to submit their draft of the new code bill to Governor Nash. They left at 8:15 last night for Columbus, but wouldn't talk on the code. A man close to the Governor said that the bill had been drawn along the lines laid down by Governor Nash and he said the outline of the bill as printed in yesterday's Advocate was substantially correct though he would not permit the use of his name in this connection.

Columbus, Aug. 8.—It is reported today that the Supreme court is hopelessly divided on the question of the new code. Justice Shauk contends that the only constitutional code will be the one drawn up on the lines of that of Governor Nash. Other justices hold that under the constitution the code can be made elastic, giving cities practically home rule.

ORDER OF THE GARTER.

London, Aug. 8.—King Edward held an investiture of orders at Buckingham Palace today. The Dukes of Wellington and Sutherland received the order of the garter, Lords Roberts and Kitchener, John Morley and others the new order of merit.

MINERS

May Have Served Their Sentences, But Questions Involved Will Be Settled by Appeal.

Wheeling, W. Va., Aug. 8.—The case of the striking miners and organizers decided in Judge Goff's court against the petition for a writ of habeas corpus is to be appealed to a higher court. Joan J. Coniff, counsel for the defendants, said today that he would proceed at once with steps to carry the case to the Supreme Court of the United States. It may not get into that tribunal in time for settlement to be reached before the miners have served their sentences but the question deemed to be involved will be adjusted for all time.

GENERAL KNOX WAS INSULTED

Three Men Make Oral and Physical Attack on Him in an Atlantic City Hotel.

Philadelphia, Aug. 8.—The North American published a telegram from Atlantic City describing an attack on Attorney General Knox about midnight last night in the cafe of an aristocratic hotel. The cause of the assault on Mr. Knox was his attitude against the trusts. His assailants were a multimillionaire of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, a shipbuilder and another man well known in Philadelphia.

Attorney General Knox was knocked out in the argument—not figuratively but literally. He was attacked by three men, and superior numbers defeated him. The shipbuilder delivered the blow that landed squarely on the cabinet member's solar plexus, a right hander that sent the attorney general spinning backward. The place of the occurrence was the cafe annex, a rustic little nook adjoining the cafe of the garden, where there was a table of eight covers, all of which were occupied. The central feature of this table was Attorney General Knox who had with him three other men and four ladies. They were enjoying a quiet dinner after a day of amusement. Mr. Knox and his party were well along in their repast when a carriage drove up to the hotel. Three men alighted, one with no little difficulty, for it was quite apparent that he had been drinking.

The three men made their way into the cafe annex and took seats at a small table about 10 feet distant from that occupied by the Knox party. They began a lively conversation apparently oblivious of the fact that at a nearby table were several women. The head waiter two or three times cautioned the men to be careful, but the talk would always break out afresh, even after Mr. Knox's presence was made known. At last the Pittsburgher began making disparaging remarks about the attorney general's attitude toward the trusts.

While Mr. Knox was making protest against the intemperate language he was being called names that startled everyone within hearing. Then came a blow that landed fairly on the belt of the attorney general, who found himself opposed to three men all larger and heavier than he. The blow staggered him against the wall. At that moment a half dozen waiters rushed in and Mr. Knox was surrounded by his friends and no more blows were given.

MR. KNOX'S STATEMENT

New York, Aug. 8.—Attorney General Knox told the story of the assault upon him last night at Atlantic City. "It was at the Garden Hotel," said Mr. Knox, "I went there with four lady friends. Who they are, no matter. We were sitting at a table. One of these men I recognized as Charles T. Sweeney of Pittsburgh. The others I do not know. The three made up a vicious party and became noisy and used rough and insulting language. I took the ladies away, then returned and reproved the men. One made a lunge at me but I was not struck. There was no talk of trusts, as the morning papers report. I am sorry it occurred, but such an affair is likely to happen to any one."

THOMS

Is Hanged At Chicago Today.

The Murderer Escaped On The First Trial.

TRAP WAS SPRUNG AT 11:29 A. M. FRIDAY

KEISSIG A YOUNG CABIN BOY

Who Was a Witness to His Crime Brought About Conviction of Murderer Thomas.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Louis C. Thoms was hanged today at 11:29 o'clock. He has had two trials, escaping on the first. His crime was revolting. On December 30, 1901, while steward of the steamer Peerless, he choked Carrie Larson, a cook of the vessel, to death. He then assaulted her and leading her body with weights, sank it in the Chicago river. Robert Keissig, a cabin boy, was a witness and brought about the conviction. It was proved in the trial that the Larson woman was not Thoms' first victim.

BURGLARS

Were Boys Who Were Pursued to a Point Near Reynoldsburg and Captured.

Summit Station, Ohio, Aug. 8.—Late yesterday afternoon two youthful burglars entered the house of Ira Tarpning and stole $37 and some jewelry. Charles Malloy and Clifton Torpin, at once started in pursuit and caught the thieves near Reynoldsburg, and brought them to Summit. The stolen property was recovered.

HAMMER

Struck the Electric Rail and Two Men Were Fearfully Burned and Otherwise Injured

New York, Aug. 8.—An accident in which two men were badly burned and otherwise injured, one of whom will probably die, occurred yesterday afternoon on the Third Avenue division of the Manhattan Elevated road. The two men were John Wolfert and John Coughlin. They were engaged in repairing the rails on the southbound track. Coughlin was driving a rivet which Wolfert was holding. Coughlin missed his aim and instead of striking the rivet the hammer came with full force against the tird, or electrically charged rail. Immediately there was a loud explosion. Coughlin was thrown several feet and tumbled over into the street.

Every bit of clothing even to his shoes, had been burned from his body and the flesh was burned. Wolfert's clothing was also afire, and he was thrown several feet.

Hardly an inch of Coughlin's body escaped the action of the electricity. The hammer which Coughlin was using disappeared mysteriously, and has not been found. The police insist that the tremendous force of the electric current melted the steel and burned the wood of the tool.

COMING FROM COLUMBUS.

The Columbus Dispatch says: Camp McKinley will be visited Sunday by the veteran corps of the Fourteenth Ohio National guard who will be the guests of the Fourth regiment. The men are to assemble Sunday morning at 8 o'clock at the intersection station and will take the Buckeye Lake route to Newark and the camp. The members of the veteran corps will be a badge and each member of the corps will wear one of these. The arrangements are in charge of Colonel Geo. D. Freeman, George S. McMahon and Albert S. Lowry. The first named will command the men who make the trip.

VICTORY

For the Democrats in Tennessee, Whose Candidates Receive Large Majorities at Thursday's Election

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 8.—Returns received from over the State show the election by large majorities of the Democratic tickets for supreme court and for the court of chancery appeals. The former is made up of W. K. McAllister, M. M. Neil, John K. Shields and W. D. Beard, and the latter is composed of R. M. Barton, John W. Taylor and S. H. Wilsons. Democratic congressional nominations, according to information received by the State committee, are as follows: Fourth district, Morgan C. Fitzpatrick; Sixth district, John Wesley Gaines; Seventh district, L. E. Padgett; Eighth district, T. W. Starr; Ninth district, Rice Pearce.

LAWLESS JUDGE

IS THE TITLE BRYAN APPLIES TO JUDGE JACKSON

A Greater Menace to Free Government Than the Criminals Who Come Before Him.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 8.—In the Commoner Editor Bryan refers to Judge Jackson of West Virginia, as a lawless judge for his imprisonment of the striking miners for contempt, saying: "A judge has no legal right to convert into a crime that which before his decree was lawful, and even if he had the power to legislate he would have no authority to suspend the constitutional right of the accused to a trial by jury. But Judge Jackson usurps the power (not the right) to make laws and to fix penalties, not according to the constitution, but according to his own warped and biased judgment. A lawless judge is a greater menace to free Government than all the petty criminals who come before him in a life time."

"Impeachment proceedings have been suggested and it is to be hoped that the matter will be brought before Congress that the people may see whether the Republican party will stand by the people and their constitutional rights or by the corporations. The strike is a clumsy, insufficient remedy, hurtful to employe and to the public as well as to the employer, but until arbitration comes and makes the strike unnecessary it is the laborer's only means of defense and while it is employed the Judge must be impartial and ready to protect the rights of both sides."

NO CHANGE

In the Condition of the Strike on the Manhattan Elevated Railroad—A Conference

New York, Aug. 8.—There is practically no change this morning in the efforts of the engineers and firemen of the Manhattan Elevated railroad system to obtain a nine hour day. At 10 o'clock this morning A. B. Youngston, assistant grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who is here overseeing the efforts put forth by the engineers Charles Wilson vice, grand master of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, and two firemen, representing the local chapter of the Brotherhood, went into conference at the Broadway Central Hotel.

REFUSED

To Allow a Doctor to Dress His Injuries—Strange Negro at Marietta, Ohio.

Marietta, Ohio, Aug. 8.—A strange negro held on suspicion escaped from the city prison this morning while another man was being put in. He tried to kill Officer Alexander with a club. The officer chased him a square, firing four shots, the last of which brought the negro down, dangerously wounded. The negro is desperate and refused to allow his wound to be dressed by a doctor.

TEMPER

Of Convention of Federated Catholics

Express Confidence In Roosevelt On Philippine Question.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND IGNORED AND SAT UPON

BUT ONE VOTE FOR RESOLUTION

Offered by His Supporter as Substitute to Dismiss the Friar and Philippine Question.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—The convention of Federated Catholic Societies closed yesterday.

The temper of the convention relative to Archbishop Ireland's warning not to interfere with the Philippine question was put to the test at the closing session. John T. Keating, a national officer of the Hibernians, offered a substitute resolution for those previously brought before the meeting. Mr. Keating proposed that the delegates dismiss the friar and the Philippine school question with a mere expression of satisfaction with the manner in which the subject is being handled by the Vatican and the Administration. This was along the lines advised by Archbishop Ireland. When a motion on the substitute was put there was but one affirmative vote, and that one was Keating's.

The convention then adopted the following resolution:

"We hereby express confidence that the Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, will perform his duty under the constitution and laws, and it is our firm belief that he will institute a rigid judicial inquiry into any abuses by subordinate Government officials in our territorial possessions and promptly rectify such abuses. We are especially confident that in his dealings with the serious problems arising in the Philippine Islands property and personal rights guaranteed by laws and constitution will be faithfully safeguarded and protected."

"Resolved, That we extend to the friars in the Philippines our fullest sympathy in this, the hour of trial; that we appreciate the value of their services in the cause of religion and humanity; that we pledge them our support as American citizens in upholding the hands of our Government in its determination to see that they are treated with that common justice that belongs to all who enjoy the protection of the American flag."

"Resolved, That this federation congratulate the Vatican and the American government on the position attained in the negotiations regarding the questions which have arisen in the Philippines, and we express our full confidence that these negotiations will be continued until a just and amicable solution shall be obtained."

The resolution was discussed by a number of prominent clerical and lay delegates, in particular by Father O'Reilly, the Augustinian friar, who called upon President Roosevelt some time ago as a representative of the order to lay the Catholic view of the question before him. Bishop Messmer and Bishop McFaul and Alphonse Kibbe of New York, also addressed the convention on the question. Father O'Reilly said he thought he voiced the sentiment of the convention when he said that it was the place of the federation to enlighten the government as to the true situation in the Philippines. Men, he said, whose duty it was to inform the administration impartially, had been blind to true conditions.

CIRCUIT JUDICIAL TICKET.

For Circuit Judge,
S. M. DOUGLASS, of Massfield.

Public sentiment has finally won a great victory in New York city, as it is definitely announced that the New York Central railroad is to substitute electric motive power for steam on all its lines within the limits of that metropolis, and within a distance of thirty miles therefrom. The step will involve an outlay of $14,000,000, and it will terminate provoking discomforts and the vital dangers which were illustrated in the fatal tunnel accident. New York is to be congratulated on this promised advance in traction methods; and there is ground for general felicitation in the announcement, because it confirms the practicability of introducing electricity as a motive power for all urban railroad traffic. The management of the New York Central railroad would never commit itself to a promise of this character unless sure of its ground, and the lead it takes in this direction is a shining example for other railroad organizations to follow.

Boss Platt doesn't know what the attitude of his party will be on the trust question. In other words, Mr.
Platt only knows that some scheme will have to be devised by which the voters may be made to believe that the party is opposed to trusts, but is against any action that will cut off campaign funds.

The machinery of the federal courts moves with astonishing rapidity when it is sought to prevent the miners from doing something, but it seems to move backward when attention to the methods of the trust is suggested.
The coal trust exists and has existed
for years, the federal officials know
it, but they have made no move to restrain it from oppressing the people.

Estimates on the result of the next congressional election by Democrats gives our party 211 members of the next house and the Republicans 175, a Democratic majority of 35. In this estimate Ohio is credited with 15 Republicans and 6 Democrats. In the present congress the Republican majority is 47.

These are truly days of prosperity
—for trusts. Mr. Schwab testifies that the Steel Trust made $140,000,000 during the fiscal year. But who paid the freight?

HANNA AND HYPOCRISY

(Chicago Chronicle.)

The Republican party has managed to do an extensive business with hypoocrisy as its capital. Why, therefore, should not Senator Hanna expect to turn the same quality to his own account?

If anybody had intimated five years ago that Mr. Hanna could have assumed the role of a friend of labor
without setting the whole republic afire,

to a guffaw he would have been deemed the victim of a violent form of insanity. Yet we find the Ohio senator taking that part every week
nowadays and exciting no particular surprise on the part of anybody.

For twenty years the Republican party has had no motive save the enrichment of the few at the expense of the many. It has had no principle but plunder. It has stood for nothing but injustice, privilege and selfishness. At its head, making its platforms, nominating its candidates and reaping the rewards of its iniquities has stood Mr. Hanna, the personification of greed and inequality.

Since the party itself has managed white enrolling a law to secure popular approval almost beyond precedent why should not the most offensive of its leaders set up as a friend of the workingman? If the Republican organization, which has been wholly subverted to the interests of the few, can maintain the pretense
that it seeks the welfare of all why should not its chief corruptionist play
with success the role of a philantropist?

The Cleveland workmen who applaud Hanna as a friend of labor are a disgrace to American citizenship.

When worn down and ready to take your bed, use Walthers' Peptonized
Port, that builds up, up, up.

HEAD OF NEW OIL TRUST.

Untold Wealth of John D. Rockefeller
and Standard Oil Company.

The Standard Oil company, which is at the head of the new oil trust, is capitalized at $10,000,000 under the laws of the state of New Jersey, but is worth at least a billion and a half because of the appreciation of its stock,
says the New York Journal.

This octopus, which has from its modest beginning brought about a community of interests in the oil business of the world, forcing the house of the Rothschilds to come to its terms, is the owner of fleets, buildings, towns, plants that cover miles of territory, thousands of railroad oil cars and 20,000 miles of oil tubing.

In its possession is nearly all of the oil land in America north of Texas.
Some of it—and the greatest holding—being in western Pennsylvania and West Virginia. Its grasp has extended to nearly every country in the world, controlling the trade in nearly every section, and so profitable has become its trade that in 1899 the profits amounted to $48,000,000 and have been increasing at a prolific rate every year since.

Of John D. Rockefeller's holdings in the Standard Oil alone an intimate of the financier remarked in Wall street
recently, "I should say that Mr. Rockefeller was worth today a little less than a thousand million dollars. Take his holdings in Standard Oil alone.
They have been worth during the present year more than $300,000,000. But it must be remembered that Mr. Rockefeller, who squanders less than most rich men on his personal wants, has been growing rich at the rate of compound interest.

"I don't think any man will deny that Mr. Rockefeller has made an average of $30,000,000 a year for ten years. The reinvestment of this sum alone, supposing he had no principal,
at 5 per cent compound interest would mean the addition of more than $400-000,000 to his riches.

"But the securities from which this income has been derived have steadily increased in value. His Standard Oil holdings in three or four years have doubled in market value; his railway and other securities have advanced tremendously, and in the past three years
his wealth has increased in a sum which would astonish the American people if the actual figures were laid before them.

"There are few first class railroads
in which he does not own some of the stock. There are few trusts in which he has not been compelled to rein-vest his constantly increasing income.
At the present quotations for securities it is impossible that he should be worth much less than a thousand million dollars."

INDIA READY TO HAIL KING.

Levee at Delhi in Honor of Edward
to Be a Gorgeous Affair.

The levee in Delhi at which Viceroy Curzon will proclaim King Edward emperor of India in the presence of Indian princes in full state promises to be the most magnificent spectacle
of its kind ever seen in India, writes
the Bombay correspondent of the New York World. All the resources of the Indian government will be taxed to make the gathering gorgeous and picturesque, while the native princes will vie with the government and with each other in the splendor of their uniforms,
jewels and trappings.

Viceroy Curzon, who was Miss Lester of Chicago, will fill the most prominent part in this pageant, and she has devised for it a costume of the richest white silk, overlaid with precious real lace and shimmering with jewels.

It is expected that Mrs. and the Misses Lester will attend the ceremony. Among other Americans present will be Douglas Grant, who will leave London shortly for a tour around the world.

CHAMP CLARK STORIES

How One Man Dashed the Hopes of Many Statesmen.

Senator Carter's Time Killing Speech
Against the Rivers and Harbors
Bill—Many Evidences of Persever-ence and Pluck in the Story of His Career—An Oration of Over Thirteen Hours' Duration That Was Entertaining and Witty.

[Copyright, 1902, by Champ Clark.]

On page 2570 of "The Congressional Record," thirty-sixth session, second session, there is a sentence containing only five words which will be remembered for years to come by many citizens of this mighty republic with various emotions. It runs in this wise:
"Mr. Carter obtained the floor." In very truth he did, and what's more,
he held it for 13½ mortal hours and for all that anybody knows would be holding it yet had not the hour of high noon March 4 ended his more or less desultory remarks. His wonderful gift of continuance once more demonstrated the truth of the famous declaration by Robert Burns:

The best laid plans of mice and men
Gang aft agley.

By speaking 13½ hours Senator Carter dashed the hopes, ruined the prospects and overthrew the political air-castles of divers and sundry ambitious statesmen. He will not be soon forgotten. That's one of the certainties of the future.

Carter the Man.

Senator Carter's career shows what perseverence, pluck, capacity, tact and ambition can accomplish in this western world. About 20 years ago he was a book agent, perambulating the country selling "The Footprints of Time."

Since then he has been a representative and senator in congress, commissioner of the general land office and chairman of the Republican national committee.
At present he is president of the national board of commissioners of the Louisiana Purchase exposition. It is simple truth to state that he has discharged with ability the duties of every position he ever held. Nobody believes that the political career of so resolute a man is at an end.

Carter, Orator and Wit.

It is strange that so little should be
said about his gifts as orator and wit,
for he is both. Senator Chauncey Mitchell Depew and Ambassador Joseph H. Choate divide between them
the honor of being the crack postpran-dial orator of America, yet it is a conceded fact that at a great banquet in Washington, where Depew and Carter
both delivered after dinner speeches,
the latter carried off all the honors.

The breezy manner of the Montana
statesman made the audience delirious with delight. Certainly that achievement proves beyond the shadow of a doubt that as a wit his place is in the front rank.

His Time Killing Speech.

Of course Carter's 13½ hour speech against the $60,000,000 rivers and harbors bill was a time killing speech. As a rule, speeches of that sort are dry as a powder house. Not so with Carter's.
It sparkles with wit, shimmers with humor and contains a good deal of logic and philosophy. The very fact that it was 13½ hours long deters people from reading it. Probably I am the only human being living or dead except the proofreader on The Congressional Record that ever perused it as old man Harper of Kentucky declared that he ran his horses—"from end to end."

Being a verbal fight against time, it goes without saying that much of it is flat, stale and unprofitable, but if all the bright things in it had been culled
out and condensed into a speech of one or two hours it would have made Carter famous and would have been as widely circulated and universally read as was Proctor Knott's celebrated Dinwiddie
speech.

There is no wit or humor or badinage
or eloquence about his exordium, which runs in this wise:

"I have no hesitation in saying in the presence of the senate that the basis upon which this bill and all river and harbor bills for a dozen years have been constructed is vicious and entirely contrary to just and equitable principles of legislation. Any senator who will carefully read this bill and in conjunction with it the report upon which it is based will inevitably be driven to the conclusion, unhappy though that conclusion may be and humiliating as it is, that the bill is framed, constructed and completed upon the despicable principle of division and silence.

"This bill from first to last is surcharged with items repugnant to the judgment of every senator, items which every senator is conscious are lacking
in merit and should not be incorporated in any bill appropriating money from the public treasury.

"I fully realize, Mr. President, that when a committee starts out to frame
a bill of this kind it is the set purpose of every member of the committee to provide for those barbers that should be improved in the interest of commerce. It is the purpose of every member of the committee to expend public money only in the public interest in this behalf, but this bill grows
from day to day and hour to hour until a sufficient number of states and districts are satisfied to secure its passage."

A Guess as to Motive.

It is to be doubted whether the vicious system of congressional log rolling—legislation on the you tickle me and I'll tickle you principle—was ever

so clearly set forth in so few words.
Why did he do it? That's a question which has puzzled many persons.

I have no idea that Senator Carter was animated by "immortal hate," but without being in his confidence I confidently advance the opinion that the "study of revenge" was the motive power of his marvelous oratorical performance—not revenge for himself, but revenge for all the arid land region against the committee on rivers and harbors and against the beneficiaries
of the rivers and harbors $60,000,000 bill.
My guess is that had the senators and representatives from "the great American desert" of the old time geographical been taken care of as they demanded the rivers and harbors bill, carrying even a greater sum, would have passed not only without the opposition of Senator Carter, but with his consent and aid, and as a result some other patriot from some other state might have talked it to death, but the senator from Montana would never have tuned his vocal apparatus to sing that 13½ hour swan song. As the arid land brethren were left out in the cold,
the chances are that even if Carter had not talked it to death somebody else would.

A Crack at New York.

The second item to which Senator
Carter called attention was $5,000 for Mattituck harbor, New York, which he did in the following way manner:

"For instance, we have the sum of $5,000 appropriated to take care of Mattituck harbor, New York. Who ever heard of Mattituck harbor before tonight? Where is Mattituck harbor in New York? One of the senators from New York is present. He may be able to locate it. But I doubt tonight
if a single member of the committee on commerce can tell where this harbor
is. And yet we are to put $5,000 of money in the improvement of that harbor. If you will turn to page 40 of the report, you will find where Mattituck harbor is.

"Now, mark this unheard of basis for an appropriation—astounding revelation: 'The natural depth of water at the entrance is from one to two feet!'

"We are to start in with from one to two feet of water to dig out a harbor
to get up to the village of Mattituck, unknown to anybody outside of the postal authorities of the United States and the persons living in the immediate vicinity?"

Mr. Chandler—What is the depth of water we are to get?

Mr. Carter replied: "They want 30 feet of water at Mattituck harbor. The senator from West Virginia very aptly suggests to me at this point that the turkeys are required as towboats to tow the catfish out of that place when the water gets low. The senator from Maryland says to me we had better sink a well up there and pump the water out in order to get a harbor. This sounds ridiculous, but the naked, cold
truth remains that out of the tolling millions whom we are empowered to tax we are to take $5,000 for this purpose.

"That takes the opera bouffe aspects
from this case and makes it something of a tragedy. I will not touch all of these ridiculous propositions as we pass by, but only the high places where the low water is found.

"But, Mr. President, we do not confine ourselves to the coast when we get to the state of New York. We are easy of our favors in the framing of this bill. We desire to interest everybody, and we naturally desire to throw bou-quers at senators, and consequently we take up the harbor at Peekskill, N.
Y., among other places in that state,
and I find upon page 11 this item, not inserted by the senate. I have been reading from the original text of the bill. Up to this time I have not made any remark in relation to any senate
amendment to the river and harbor bill.
It is a part of the original text of the bill as it came to us: 'Improving the harbor at Peekskill, N. Y.; continuing improvement $5,000.'

"I presume that Peekskill is spoken
of in terms of respect in this report.
If it is not, it ought to be. I have never heard an evil report from the town of Peekskill. This is the statement. I believe it is not flattering. I presume
it is confined to the truth, as all stories relative to Peekskill have been: 'This harbor is a prominent indentation on the eastern shore of the Hudson river at Peekskill, N. Y., about 45 miles above New York city. It has an area of about one square mile approximately.'

"Not quite, I suppose, but approximately a square mile."

Poked Fun at Southerners.

In this vein Senator Carter proceeded on his geographical excursion. About daybreak on March 4 according to the almanac, but still March 3 according to The Congressional Record—his last day in the senate—he reached Virginia and remarked: "Mr. President, senators will find little instruction, but much of amusement, in reading over the names of the various rivers provided for in the state of Virginia. The interest will increase when you pass Virginia down to the coast of North Carolina. First is improving Seppernong river, North Carolina, $14,000! I desire to know of the senator [Mr. Butler]
whether my pronunciation of that name is correct." Being assured that it was and that a delicious grape was also called the Seppernong, Carter proceeded: "Oh, that furnishes ample justification for the proposed appropriation. I did not connect the grape with the river. [Laughter.] As happily suggested by the senator from Massachusetts [Mr. Lodge], I was thinking of water and not of wine. [Laughter.]" And thus he proceeded till the $60,000,000 river and harbor bill was dead as a smelt and until he was an ex-senator. As evidence of resourcefulness and many other things the entire speech is well worthy of careful perusal.

AT CAMP M'KINLEY

A Grand Review of Brigade Takes Place Today and Sunday.

Death of Col. Coit's Father—Governor and Others To Be Entertained in Newark Tomorrow Night—Public Reception for Men at Mr. Hoover's Home.

Camp McKinley, Aug. 8.—General Coit, Rev. J. C. Schindel of Newark, Dick said to the Advocate last night, "We will have the division encampment in Newark next year." This means a camp of nearly 6,000 soldiers at one time next year. They will all be encamped on the state ground, but other property will be leased for drill.

COL. H. V. TAYLOR

Newark, O., August 8, 1902. The officers and men of the Fourth regiment infantry, Ohio National Guard, have heard with profound sorrow of the death of Mr. Harvey Coit, father of our regimental commander, and hereby offer to Col. Coit our expressions of sympathy in this hour of his bereavement.

Colonel Coit's long connection with the Fourth-Fourteenth regiment and the distinguished services he has rendered both to the State and the Nation have brought us into such close relations to him as to make us feel that his bereavements are really our own as are his joys and successes, both public and private. May the spirit of the All-father be his comforter and hope in the Everlasting. His guiding star during this night of the Fourth's officers today sent a floral offering to Columbus.

There will be a grand brigade review Sunday and union services Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

REVIEW

Of Brigade Today's Event at Camp McKinley—Fourth Regiment Notes Hospitals Not Busy.

Camp McKinley, Aug. 8.—The event of the day will be the grand review of the entire Second Brigade by the Governor, who has been in camp all of the time the brigade has been on duty. The Governor will be assisted by Generals Dick and Speaks and their respective staffs. The ceremony will take place promptly at 5 o'clock. The Brigade was drilled this morning by General John C. Speaks and the men all much enjoyed the new maneuvers.

DEATH

Of Col. A. B. Coit's Father at Columbus Thursday Night—Resolutions Adopted by Fourth

Camp McKinley, Aug. 8.—Last night after dress parade, a telephone message from Columbus brought news of the sudden death of Col. A. B. Coit's father, Harvey Coit. Lt. Colonel Barger was at once put in command of the Fourth regiment and Col. Coit returned to Columbus with his wife and two sons, Capt. Harvey Coit and Corporal Preston Coit. Today the officers of the regiment met and adopted resolutions of sympathy prepared by Chaplain Hewitt. Out of respect to the Colonel, the Fourth regiment dance at Idlewild park was declared off tonight. In the absence of Colonel FOURTH REGIMENT. Capt. Perry Cappel of Columbus, a former member of Co. B of the 4th O. V. I. is a guest in camp of the officers of Co. A.

The Captain of a fire company in Columbus was one of three men who were badly injured in the recent large fire on Spring street in Columbus.

During the rain last evening over an inch of water fell on the camp grounds but this morning after the sun had been out for an hour there were no signs that there had been a rain only a fresh appearance of the grass and trees.

Private Harvey Gracely of Co. D of Marion, was sent home this morning from the Brigade hospital suffering from tonsillitis.

All ceremonies of a social nature in the regiment have been called off out of respect to the Colonel. The military dance which was to have been given at Idlewild Park this evening will not take place.

Ex-Chaplain J. C. Schindel of Newark, who was a member of the Fourth O. V. I. during the War with Spain, is a guest of the Fourth regiment.

The regiment was mustered this morning by Lieut.-Colonels Houk and Ritzel of the Division staff.

This morning Co. G had a great deal of fun with the officers of the Fourth regiment who live in Newark. All of them, from the Major of the Battalion to the members of the Honorary staff of the Colonel, were put in the "fly", and it was a great sight to see them go up in the air. Two dogs of the company, Carlo and Dock, were put up with the rest and enjoyed the sport as much as the rest.

The Fourth regiment was on the rifle range today and a number of excellent records were made.

Captain and Assistant Surgeon Wm. H. Knauss is medical officer of the provost guard today.

James Pollard, the head waiter at the officers mess, is studying law at the Ohio State University, and is working his way through the school by doing this kind of work. He is a very intelligent colored man and a good talker.

The officer of the day today is Captain Hershey of Co. M of Washington C. H., and the officers of the guard are Lieutenants Johnson of Co. E and Henry of Company G.

Col. Robert Dorsey, the only cook in the regiment, a member of Co. G, who had his thumb severely cut a few ago, is much better and is able for duty.

The members of the band are shooting on the range today with the rest of the regiment. Musician Will Hans of the band is one of the best shots in the regiment and holds the record for this kind of work for Camp Thomas, won during the late war.

THE EIGHTH REGIMENT.

First Sergeant Treap of Co. B of the regiment was called home suddenly Thursday by the serious illness of his wife.

Captain Bernard is the officer of the day and the officers of the guard are Lieutenants Robinson and Callon.

The boys of the regiment welcomed the rain of last evening as the company streets were becoming very dusty, and there was just enough rain to make the rest of the camp pleasant for them.

THE ENGINEERS.

Mrs. Vincent, wife of Captain Vincent of Co. D is the guest of her husband today.

Captain Gerke of Co. B and Lieut. Schofield of Co. D officer of the day. Lieutenant Bocchetti of Co. B is on duty at the brigade guard house.

BIRDSEYE VIEW OF CAMP.

The Advocate is under obligations to Smith, the artist, for a splendid birdseye view of the Second regiment camp. Mr. Smith took the large picture from the bluff across Raccoon creek. It shows the location of each regiment and the lay of the land as few pictures do.

A number of Newark ladies were entertained by Co. D, Fifth regiment, Thursday evening. Music and dancing furnished the amusement and all speak highly of Co. D as the best of entertainers.

THE HOSPITAL.

Things are rather quiet at the Brigade Hospital and Captain Taylor, with Stewards Richards and Farquhar are having a rather easy time of it. There have been 12 cases of sickness that have been taken to the Brigade and the health of the men is very good considering the extremely cold weather the Brigade has been having. In the regimental hospitals there are always a few that have to visit the dispensary at sick call in the morning, but there are few serious cases.

Steward Dickinson who has been in Columbus for a few days, returned to duty this morning.

At the General Headquarters this morning, everything was bustling as the force from the office of the Adjutant General is busy today straightening out the pay and muster rolls of the regiments and arranging things so the men will be paid soon after they return home.

Col. Harry M. Taylor was in Columbus last evening on business.

Lt.-Col. Ritzel of the Division staff has charge of the muster rolls of the division.

Captain Symon of the State House in Columbus, is in camp on duty.

The field officer of the day is Lt. Col. Weybrecht of Eighth regiment. Lt.-Col. Barger of the Fourth regiment had been detailed for this duty, but on account of the death of the father of the Colonel, Commanding Col. Barger being in command of the regiment, another appointment was made for the day.

UNION SERVICE.

Great preparations are being made for the big union service to be held on Sunday that is to take the place of the regular regimental religious services. Chaplain Hampton of the Seventh regiment, will read the Scripture lesson; Chaplain Hickok of the Fifth will offer up prayer. Chaplain Priest of the Eighth and Chaplain Hewitt of the Fourth will make the addresses. The exercises will be held in front of the Brigade headquarters, and will commence promptly at 3 o'clock. General Speaks has made arrangements for the construction of a large platform for the accommodation of those taking part in the exercises. The program rendered will be as follows:

Voluntary, overture, by all four regimental bands.

"Nearer, My God to Thee"—All the bands and congregation

Scripture Reading—Chaplain Hampton of Ironton.

Prayer—Chaplain Hickok of Cleveland.

"Lead, Kindly Light"—Bands.

Address—Chaplain Priest.

Overture—Two Bands

Address—Chaplain Hewitt of the Fourth Regiment.

"America"—Combined Bands and Congregation.

Benediction—Chaplain Priest of the Eighth Regiment.

Owing to the fact that the Engineers have no chaplain, arrangements have been made for their band to play a piece of music after the benediction has been pronounced. Band Leader Palmer will have charge.

A grand review of all the regiments of the brigade will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock. The regiments will form in line of masses with the Engineers on the right of the line. The men will be reviewed by Governor Nash ten of the staff, General Dick and one half of his staff, under the command of Brigadier General Speaks. The Governor will review the parade and afterwards pass in review.

Julius Armstrong and Charles Valandigham of the State Adjutant General's office are here for the purpose of making up the muster rolls and getting ready for the payment to the men of the money due them, before they leave the camp. They are making rapid progress with their work.

Quite a large crowd turned out on Thursday afternoon to witness a game of ball between picked nines from the Eighth, but the game was called off owing to rain.

The men composing the litter of the Hospital corps, were given some lively drill work on Thursday afternoon in picking up and carrying from the field wounded men.

Ex-Lieut. Col. Walsh and wife are the guests of the Fourth.

Mrs. A. B. Coit, Mrs. George B. Donavin and "Colonel" Robert Coit, son of Captain Harvey Coit, are the guests of the Fourth.

The Engineers entertained the Governor very handsomely on Thursday evening.

Governor Nash reviewed the Eighth regiment on Wednesday evening, and was very much pleased with the bearing of the boys and their soldierly appearance.

The members of the Eighth regiment were mustered for pay on Thursday.

The range was occupied by the Seventh regiment on Thursday, and some excellent scores were made.

Captain Harry Ulrichs of Youngstown, is the guest of the Fourth.

HOW IT HAPPENED.

Mrs. Agnes Romine, of Hanover, Tells How She Was Cured by the British Doctors After Four Years of Suffering

Hanover, O., Aug. 1, 1902.

Editor Advocate—For four years I have doctored with physicians, and my nerves, spleen and kidneys were in terrible shape, in fact, was considered incurable. The specialists in charge of the British Medical Institute have made me a new woman in just one month's treatment and I gladly recommend them to the afflicted.

What are Humors?

They are vitiated or morbid fluids coursing the veins and affecting the tissues. They are commonly due to defective digestion but are sometimes inherited.

How do they manifest themselves?
In many forms of cutaneous eruption, salt rheum or eczema, pimples and boils, and in weakness, languor, general debility. How are they expelled? By which also builds up the system that has suffered from them.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It is the best medicine for all humors.

RIBS BROKEN

And Otherwise Injured by Fall Down Stairs—Mrs. McDaniels Hurt at St. Louisville

Mrs. Jennie McDaniels, mother of Acting Chief Callender McDaniels of the B. & O. at this point, had the misfortune to meet with a very serious accident at her home in St. Louisville from the effects of which she has been confined to her bed for the past two days. On Tuesday evening she started to go down into the cellar when she tripped and fell rolling to the bottom of the steps, badly injuring her side and arm and breaking two ribs. At this writing she is considerably better, and it is thought that she will make a rapid recovery.

BURGLARS AT JOHNSTOWN

Four Places, Including the Citizens' Bank Broken Into Early Friday Morning—The Men Got Dozen Watches and Some Jewelry—One of the Men Hurt.

Johnstown, Ohio, Aug. 2—Burglars broke into four places at Johnstown shortly after midnight this morning and escaped with considerable booty.

Breaking the glass in the rear door of the Citizens' Bank they turned the key and entered, and with a hatchet knocked the combination off the safe. Failing, however, to open the safe they left the bank and visited M. Weiss' Racket Store where they gained entrance in the same manner and got away with twelve gold watches and a few rings and other articles of jewelry. In breaking the glass at this place one of the men cut himself badly, as the floor this morning was sprinkled with blood and a handkerchief lying on the floor was soaked with blood. The cash register which had been opened, was covered with blood. The men secured the watches and jewelry at Weiss' store, but got no money.

They also broke into Ross & Son's general store and stole a few rings and ransacked the whole store. The fourth and last place visited was Huff's place where they took about $2 worth of cigars and all the nickels from the cigar slot machine. A type writer was also broken by the robbers.

NEWARK MAN ON TRAIN

That Was Held Up by Masked Gang Near Savanna, Ill.—Chas Kline's Thrilling Experience—Mr. Kline Tells Story of the Daring Hold Up.

Wednesday's Advocate gave a long telegraphic account of the holdup by six men of a Chicago, Burlington & Quincy train near Marcus, five miles from Savanna, Ill., where the robbers secured a large amount of money from the express car, but one of the men was shot dead by a trainman. This story has a local interest from the fact that Mr. Charles Kline, former B. & O. operator here, figured in it prominently.

After the fireman had detached the express car from the rest of the train the engineer was ordered at the revolver's point to open the throttle. Thus they proceeded a mile and the engine was detached from the mail coach. It was there that the safe was blown open. When the job was done all the robbers boarded the engine and one of the gang opened the throttle leaving the crew behind. They ran the engine eight miles from the point where the train was stopped. There they deserted the engine, first letting out the water.

When the engine and express and mail car left the train, the passengers were in a panic. They concealed their valuables. The conductor finally called for a telegraph operator and Mr. Charles Kline of Newark, responded. He agreed to go with the conductor to Marcus and open the wire there. Several volunteered to accompany them, but Kline and Emerson soon found themselves alone. They proceeded with caution and finally reached a trestle work. Here the robbers rear guard, stationed there to block pursuit, opened fire on them. Both retreated and the attempt to reach the station, which was closed, was abandoned.

The following is taken from the Dubuque, Iowa, Telegraph-Herald's extended account of the holdup:

Charles Kline, a traveling man, whose home is in Newark, Ohio, who was aboard the train tells the following story of the holdup:

"At 11:28 o'clock, when the train was about four and one-half miles this side of Savanna the passengers were thrown from their seats by the sudden stopping of the train which was running at a high rate of speed. The engineer had seen three men standing near the track some distance ahead and noticed that one of their number held a lantern in his hand and that they all wore masks. As the train approached the place where the men stood the one with the lantern signalled the engineer to stop, but no attention was paid to the signal as the light was not the right color, being white instead of red. A little further on, the engineer could plainly see a red switch light which told him that the switch

About 12:30 Miss Leota Lytle heard a strange noise and went to the front window of her room to investigate. She saw a man standing close to the Citizens' Bank, but was too much frightened to give an alarm. The men were at work on the bank safe when Miss Lytle heard them.

Cashier Wm. A. Ashbrook was in trouble this morning when it came time to open the bank for business as the combination of the safe was off and the safe could not be opened. He succeeded, however, in getting the combination back on the safe and opened it in time to begin the business of the day at the usual hour. A hatchet was found lying on the floor of the bank. With this crude implement the men had attempted to open the safe.

A Johnstown citizen who was up early this morning saw a light flash in the bank about one o'clock, but he thought nothing of it till this morning when the news of the robbery became known.

The amateur way in which the men went to work and the style of stuff they carried away leads to the belief that the four jobs were done either by tramps or amateur burglars. There is no clue, however.

through the coaches, many jumped from the train and sought hiding places in the woods on either side of the track. Those who had money and other valuables on their persons, hid their valuables in every nook and corner of the coaches, some of the passengers buried their treasure in the ground beside the tracks, while others secreted their wealth about their persons.

"When we reached the trains some reported that they could see a light approaching and a Catholic priest who was among the passengers, went up the track and fired several shots in the direction of the light. After the first shot was fired the light suddenly disappeared and the passengers were again quieted.

"For nearly four hours the passengers, particularly the women and children were panic stricken. Among the party, as usual there were a few cool heads, who tried to quiet the others, but their efforts met with poor success.

"It was feared that the desperadoes would return after rifling the express car and hold up the occupants of the coaches. It was this belief that caused so much alarm among the passengers and as a result many of them spent the night hiding in the woods and could not be induced to board the train again, till they were assured that there was no further danger.

"After rifling the safe of its contents estimated at between $30,000 and $40,000, the hold up men, loaded their booty into sacks and, detaching the engine from the wrecked express and mail car, they kicked the engine out of the cab and ran north about eight miles, where they deserted the engine and made their escape with the booty. It was while the bandits were making their escape from the scene of the hold up that they threw their dead companion from the cab of the engine. The body rolled down a steep embankment and was discovered at an early hour this morning by some of the passengers who were hunting for the engine, which had been run a distance of fully ten miles from where the passenger coaches stood.

"I have been in several collisions in different parts of the country, when lives have been lost, but the experience I went through last night will never be forgotten. We were all so terrified that the scene was one that has made a deep impression on my mind. The sight of the women and children as they ran about wringing their hands and crying for protection, was a sight that would melt the hardest heart.

"The robbers, however, did not molest the passengers in any way. "The express car contained a large number of Mexican parrots, belonging to Mr. Kline, who was bringing them to Dubuque for sale. A number of the cages containing the birds stood near the safe, and when the latter was blown open the birds began screaming at the top of their voices. A number of the more valuable birds that have been taught to talk, continually repeated the following phrase, "Let me out! Let me out!" Over one-half the birds owned by Mr. Kline were either killed or escaped from their cages and the owner, who imported the birds from Mexico places his loss at $150. Mr. Kline will remain in Dubuque several days for the purpose of disposing of his stock.

HYATT SUSPECTED.

A Scripps-McRae telegram to the Advocate this noon from Chicago brings the following additional news of the holdup:

Chicago, Aug. 2—Gus Hyatt, who escaped with 15 other convicts from the Nashville, Tenn., penitentiary on Monday, is now sought as the leader of the train robbers, who held up the Burlington express at Savanna, Ill. Detectives working on the case claim that Hyatt had gone from Nashville to St. Louis and then had come up along the Mississippi to the scene of the holdup.

George Kennan, alleged to be one of the bandits who held up the Burlington train at Savanna is in jail in St. Paul, Minn.

New Era in Chemistry

An American Company Succeeds in Putting the "Best Elements of the German 'Traubenkur' or Grape Cure in Cheap, Convenient Form for General Use.

Good News for Sufferers from Dyspepsia, Constipation, Liver Troubles or Nervous Exhaustion.

It is estimated that five million dollars were spent last year by Americans in visiting the world-famous Traubenkur, or Grape Cure of Germany. Their starting cures of Stomach and Liver Trouble and their subsequent cures of Nervous Exhaustion and other ailments have stirred the medical world, and forced physicians to recommend them.

Recognizing the Grape Cure as the most potent factor in modern medicine, the Lightning Medicine Co., of Rock Island, Ill., after years of scientific experiment perfected an invigorating restorative, the basis of which is the juice of the grape, combined with herbs and fruits. It is a tonic and builder. It contains all the best elements of the Traubenkur, and is now placed on general sale in drug stores at only 50 cents a bottle.

It means more to the sufferer from these diseases than any departure in medicine of the age. You can be convinced at once, because the first dose benefits.

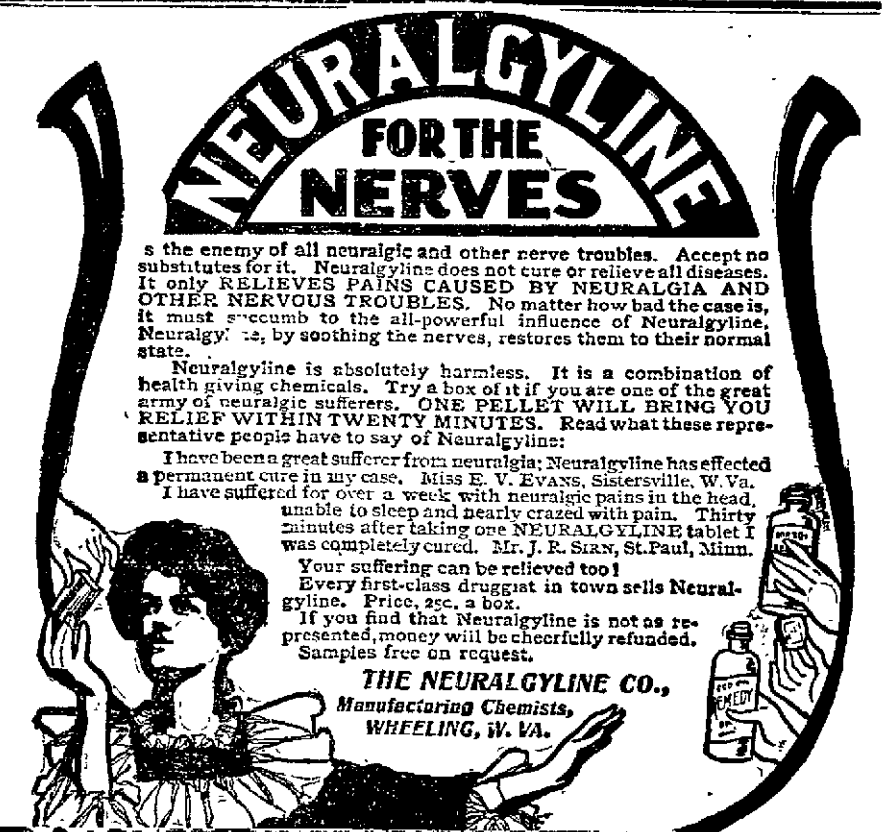

MULL'S GRAPE TONIC CURED ME

HENRY CLARK, Denney, Ky., says: "The cause of my sickness was indigestion and constipation, with liver and kidney trouble, so that I finally got into bad shape. Mull's Grape Tonic cured me. A change for the better always takes place right after the first dose."

We not only recommend Mull's Grape Tonic, but our faith in it is so unlimited that we will in all cases refund the money in full to purchasers who are not benefited by its use.

If used with a little chopped ice it will be found a delicious drink.

DROWNED AT BUCKEYE LAKE

Mrs. Joseph Stewart, Sister of Samuel Parr, for Years a Newark Grocer.—Mr. Stewart Tried to Save Her But Failed.—Boat Struck a Stump.

Mrs. Joseph Stewart, wife of ex-Sheriff of Fairfield county, was drowned in Buckeye Lake near the old Hamilton House, about 6 o'clock on Thursday evening.

In company with her husband, Mrs. Stewart was taking a pleasure ride, being in camp near the scene of the accident, the party having come up from Pleasantville, Fairfield county the first of the week.

While rowing about the boat struck a stump and was overturned, and both occupants were thrown into the water. Mr. Stewart made heroic efforts to save his wife, but they proved futile, and she sank out of sight of her husband, who was almost frantic. For hours attempts were made to recover the body, which were renewed this morning, being unsuccessful up to 10 o'clock.

The deceased was aged about 47 years and was the daughter of the late William Parr, of Linville, this county, where she spent the greater part of her life. Her father was a former sheriff of Linn county, having been dead for 15 years. She was a sister of Samuel Parr, who for many years was in the grocery business in Newark.

There are four children who survive, Byron, of Pleasantville, and William Stewart of Somerset, Vera, who lives in Pleasantville, but is now visiting her aunt Mrs. G. H. Tavenor of Linville, while her parents took their outing.

Another married daughter lives in Pleasantville.

The scene of the accident is about 10 miles from Newark.

Mr. Stewart was raised in Jackson-town, this county and is well known in Newark.

TINNER

Of Kirkersville Who Was Examined in Bankruptcy Proceedings at Kerkersville, Ohio.

(Columbus Dispatch.)

Charles E. Randall, proprietor of a tinning establishment at Kerkersville, O., was examined in bankruptcy before Referee Rogers Thursday, by Attorney Winn on behalf of a Zanesville firm. Randall purchased of the firm goods amounting to several hundreds of dollars shortly before adjudicated a bankrupt.

The firm thought he should be able to produce the goods, as stock in trade or assets but Mr. Randall only reported $200, and he asked that it be exempted. The examination did not develop the principal purpose of the hearing but, during its progress about $200 more assets were discovered in the form of outstanding debts which were not scheduled. Carl Agy of Kerkersville, was appointed trustee under a bond of $200. The liabilities of Randall foot $1,503.

THE HUMBERT COFFERS.

Strange New Game Played by Paris Society.

The Coffers of Mme. Humbert is Paris society's latest game, says the New York Herald. It consists of three closed boxes the shape of the famous safe, which contain a coin, a button and nothing, respectively. Three guests make the choice.

The one who gets the box containing the money is at liberty to choose a bride from among the ladies present. The winner of the button is compelled to hand over the contents of his pockets to the bride, to be recovered by fair means or foul. The possessor of the empty box has a less exciting imposition. He is obliged to kiss all the old ladies in the company.

A Cheerful Face.

Next to the sunlight of heaven is a cheerful face. There is no mistaking it. The bright eye, the unclouded brow, the sunny smile—all tell of that which dwells within. Who has not felt its electrifying influence? One glance at this face lifts us out of the mists and shadows into the beautiful realms of hope. One cheerful face in the household will keep everything warm and light within. It may be a very plain face, but there is something in it we feel, yet cannot express, and its cheery smile sends the blood dancing through our veins for very joy. Ah, there is a world of magic in the plain, cheerful face, and we would not exchange it for all the soulless beauty that ever graced the fairest form on earth!—Exchange.

Rescuing a Hero.

"Who is that fellow at the bat?" asked the stranger, addressing the baseball enthusiast sitting next to him in the grand stand.

"That's Bingley," said the other.

"I thought so. I've got a warrant for his arrest on an old debt and I shall have to serve it on him as soon as the game is over."

Just then Bingley made a three base hit, bringing in two men, and the crowd went wild.

"Say," shouted the enthusiast, producing a well filled pocketbook, "Mr. What's-your-name, what is the amount of your claim against that man?"—Chicago Tribune.

INTERURBAN

The Johnstown Road May be Extended to Newark is Now the Talk in Railway Circles.

(Columbus Dispatch.)

It is announced in interurban circles that the Delaware, Sunbury & Berkshire electric line will extend to Johnstown and Newark. The city council of Delaware has granted the company a franchise on Cherry street, through the town.

The Columbus, Delaware & Marion company has obtained practically all of the necessary right of way between Delaware and Marion.

CATTLE FEEDING DEVICE.

Inventor's Plan Is to Feed Sprouted Corn to the Stock.

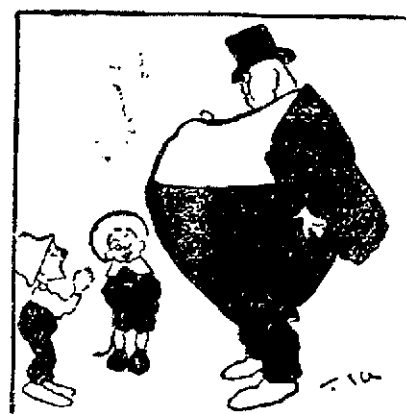

"It will revolutionize the business of feeding cattle and make meat cheaper and better than ever before, besides saving millions of dollars to stockmen," said recently an attorney who is interested in the invention of John Kammer for the economical feeding and fattening of cattle, according to a Chicago dispatch to the New York Herald.

"The invention is not in a theoretical stage," he continued, "but has been given practical tests which prove that it will do all that is claimed for it—make a bushel of corn go as far as two bushels now go in the fattening of stock."

Kammer's device consists of a large galvanized iron case, with drawers, to serve as receptacles for shelled corn, each drawer having a capacity of half a bushel. On the top and on four sides of the case is placed common moss, such as may be gathered in the woods. The moss is three inches thick and is compressed so as to form a huge sponge for the retention of water. It is thoroughly dampened, and in this moist atmosphere the corn begins to sprout almost immediately. In four days the hard grain is converted into a mass of tender sprouts, fed by the softened pulp. It is then ready for feeding to live stock or poultry. The claims made for this process are:

It increases the weight by the growth of the grain up to 100 per cent; renders grain wholly digestible and nutritive; brings to the grain by chemical changes valuable food elements not otherwise obtained; aids digestion of other foods with which the grown grain comes in contact; supplies the best tonic that can be given to animals; converts corn, the great stock feeding material, into the ideal food for poultry and all young growing stock, and supplies at all seasons of the year a food to all animals which is the equivalent of the nutritious pastures of summer.

A QUARTER OFF.

The Drummer's Reward For Saving a Drowning Man.

"I was driving into a New Hampshire village in a buggy three or four years ago," said a drummer from the Hub, "when I saw a man fall off a bridge into the river. As he came to the surface I saw that he could not swim, and I off with my coat and boots and plunged in. He came near drowning me, but at last I got him to the bank, and he proved to be the proprietor of one of the village inns. He was mighty grateful in words, and he shook hands with me about ten times an hour until bedtime. He told everybody what a hero I was and almost made me proud, and he threw out hints that such merit as mine would not go unrewarded. I passed that night and the next day and night at his inn, and then, being ready to depart, I asked for my bill. Mine best had begun to cool off considerably. In fact, he had come to believe that if let alone he would have rescued himself. Therefore I wasn't altogether unprepared for his words when he said:

"Look here now, your bill is $3.75, but—"

"But what?" I asked as he hesitated.

"But it seems that you tumbled off the bridge and got wet the other day, and as I want you to carry away a pleasant impression of the town—"

"You'll knock the 75 cents off the bill?"

"No, sir. I'll take off a quarter, and I'll expect you to send me all the customers you can to even up things."

"I refused his discount," sighed the drummer, "and when ready to go, he held out his hand for a shake and said:

"Well, I'm glad it came my way to save your life, and I hope you'll make good use of it." M. QUAD.

RESOLUTION.

To Improve North Fourth Street from Charles Street to Log Pond Run, Thence East in an alley along said Log Pond Run to Elm Street.

Be it resolved by the City Council of the City of Newark, Ohio, two-thirds of the whole number of members elected thereto concurring therein,

That it is deemed necessary by said City and this Council hereby declares that it is necessary to improve North Fourth street in said city from Charles street south to Log Pond Run; thence east in an alley along said Log Pond Run to Elm street, by excavating, grading, and constructing a sewer, with necessary catch-basins, house connections, manholes, etc., in said street and alley, between said points in accordance with the plans, profiles, estimates and specifications relating to said improvement now on file at the office of the City Clerk.

That the cost and expense of said improvement, less the cost and expense of improving street, alley or highway intersections, and less one-fifth of the entire cost and expense thereof, shall be assessed upon the lots and lands abutting thereon in the manner Council may specify in the ordinance for said improvement; said assessments shall be payable in ten semi-annual installments, and bonds shall be issued in anticipation of the collection thereof.

That the City Clerk is hereby directed to cause this resolution to be published for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper published and of general circulation in the corporation.

All persons claiming damages from the foregoing improvement must file their claims therefor in the office of the City Clerk within four weeks from the first publication of this resolution.

GIFTS FROM WU TING FANG

Chinese Minister Overwhelmed With Souvenir Requests.

The genial Chinese minister at Washington, Wu Ting Fang, is already beginning to pack his household goods preparatory to giving over the legation to his successor, Sir Liang Chang.

According to the minister, if he responded to all the requests for souvenirs which he is now receiving from admirers all the country over he would not have much to pack, says the Philadelphia Press. If Mme. Wu sent as many slippers to museums and libraries as have been asked for, she would go back to China barefooted.

Mme. Wu, at the minister's request, brought with her last year from China a large collection of rare porcelains, tapestries and old ivories, and these he has presented to friends with true generosity. Many of the garments of Mme. Wu have been offered up as a sacrifice to the curio collector, while the minister also has distributed his headgear and silken coats with great prodigality.

Few diplomats have been so generous as the retiring Chinese minister. There is scarcely a woman in Washington or in other cities to whom he owed debts of hospitality that has not received a costly fan, a curio ivory or silk for a gown. At the balls next winter robes made from Chinese crepe given by Minister Wu will be a popular feature. Wu has also sent some rare gifts to the officials with whom he came in contact.

He has formed many friendships in the United States and will be more sincerely regretted than most envoys. His friends hint that he is showing wonderful insight of our national characteristics by distributing such costly gifts as a farewell. He is making doubly sure of being remembered.

Pingpong Cupid's Ally.

According to a London paper and London's social philosophers, the game of pingpong has entrapped many a hardened bachelor into matrimony. A bachelor when plump and having that rounded girth which does not always prove that a curve is graceful can easily be tempted to play pingpong. The exercise is moderate, and for an after dinner flesh reducer nothing is better, says the San Francisco Post. The adipose bachelor is tempted at the table to display to the ready to admire female that he is yet young. Skillful flattery and the blandishment of bright eyes across the net of a too long dining table give the coup de grace. Mothers with many marriageable daughters bless pingpong. So long as the game conduces toward matrimony there is every possibility that its life will be long in the land.

Innovation in Straw Hats.

At a time when frequent fluctuations in temperature leave Parisians undecided as to what kind of a hat to don Baron de Segonzac's innovation deserves attention, says a special cable dispatch from Paris to the Chicago Record-Herald. He was seen on the Boulevard Haussmann the other day wearing a yellow Italian straw conventional stovepipe. President Loubet is famous for the art he exhibits in the selection of hats, which invariably become the fashion, but the baron's latest is equally suitable for ceremony or negligence, for a southerly or for an east wind.

THE COURTS

Outville Creamery Case

The case of Julius S. Beecher vs. the Outville Creamery company, which has been on trial to Judge Seward for the past two days, was concluded Thursday.

The action was brought by Mr. Beecher, by his attorneys Flory & Flory, to enjoin the Outville Creamery company from emptying the offal and slop from the creamery upon the land of Mr. Beecher, adjoining the creamery lot at Outville, O. There was also a complaint made by the plaintiff against the defendant company and its officers for contempt in violating the order of the Court and its injunction restraining them from continuing to allow the refuse from the creamery to run upon the land of Mr. Beecher. The case attracted considerable attention on account of the interest among the people at Outville and a large number of witnesses and spectators were present throughout the trial.

After hearing the evidence the Court found that the defendants had no right to run the refuse from their creamery upon the land of Mr. Beecher, or into the stream running through his land, and that the temporary injunction was properly allowed; and that the defendant should be perpetually enjoined from allowing any of the refuse, offal, or slop from their creamery to run in or upon the land of Mr. Beecher. The Court, upon the complaint for contempt, found that the Creamery company, and all of the defendants, except Dr. Letherman, who it turned out was not an officer of the company and had nothing to do with the acts of the defendant at the time complained of, and was, by consent, dismissed from the case, were found guilty of being in contempt of the order and injunction of the Court; and it appeared that the violation of the order was not intentional, and committed under a possible misapprehension by the defendants of what the order of the Court was, the Court fined them only the costs of the contempt proceeding. The defendants desiring to make some arrangement to dispose of the refuse matter the Court gave them twenty days in which to do this. The defendants gave notice of appeal to the Circuit Court, and filed their motion for a new trial in the contempt proceeding, which may also be taken to the Circuit court. Flory & Flory represented the plaintiff, Mr. Beecher and J. D. Jones and Kibler & Kibler the defendants.

PROSPECT

OF SECURING THE BIG PLANT IS GOOD.

New Hundred Thousand Dollar Foundry May be Built Here—The Steel Plant.

The Board of Trade committee which waited on the James E. Thomas company Thursday afternoon, reports considerable progress and hopes to be able to announce definitely within a short time that the company will erect its new $100,000 foundry in Newark. The land on which this fine new plant will be built if built in Newark, is near the new furniture factory, which occupies the old Lane Brothers' bridge buildings. It is a tract between nine and ten acres in area.

This proposed site is near the Forry land where it is proposed to erect a big steel plant. For the past few days the Board of Trade has done no active work with the steel mill proposition, but the project is very much alive and with the extension of the option the Board will endeavor to push it through to a successful issue.

LITTLE CHILD

Was in Danger of Being Badly Hurt When Mrs. Koos' Runaway Horse Was Stopped

Thursday evening about 4 o'clock, a horse driven by Mrs. Eugene Koos, frightened on the West Side of the square, and began rearing and plunging. Mrs. Koos' small child who was in the buggy, was thrown out and was caught in the wheel. Its position was extremely perilous, and prompt action was demanded to save it from death or serious injury.

Mr. Frank L. Ferguson ran to the frightened and rearing animal, and succeeded in holding him until the mother was able to reach down and rescue her little one, almost absolutely uninjured.

Brakeman J. C. Murphy of the C. & N. division, has returned to work, after a few days leave of absence.

Brakeman D. F. Coffman of the L. E. division, is working again, after having been off duty for a few days.

Conductor W. A. Saver of the C. & N. division, has reported for work, after having been off for a few days.

J. H. House, a well known B. & O. brakeman, whose home is in Barnesville, was the victim of a serious accident at Campbell's Station on the C. O. division. They were engaged in doing some switching at Campbell's when Mr. House was sent back to flag an approaching train. When he attempted to get on his caboose he missed his footing and fell under the wheels and his right arm was so badly crushed that amputation was necessary. He was given prompt attention and was sent to his home in Barnesville.

Night Yardmaster Grimm, who has been visiting relatives in West Virginia for some days, has returned and reported for duty.

A Man Who Hunted.

On the North Carolina side of the Cumberland mountains I had to ask for food and lodgings of a squatter who lived in a miserable shanty and said I would have to sleep on the floor, but nevertheless made me welcome. All we had for supper was corn bread, but later on I heard the wife saying to her husband:

"Now, then, you git yo' self out and hustle fur sunthin' a heap better fur breakfast."

For breakfast there were fried chickens, roast pig, roast yams, fresh eggs and corn coffee, and when it had been eaten the man smiled on me and said: "I'd hev done better if I could, stranger, but by the time I'd stole chickens, pig, eggs and yams the only feller around yere with any real coffee in his house was wide awake and watchin' out fur me with a shotgun."

Take Walthers' Peptonized Port three times a day and you will have no doctor's bills to pay. Prove this.

health resorts in existence. Capt. Jas. H. Smith and Dr. Chas. P. King superintended with Co. E of the Fifth Ohio last evening after dress parade. Rev. Dr. Wright of Geneva, O., and Dr. C. P. King of our city, graduated in the same class at Gambier, O., and the Doctor has a good boy in Co. E of the Fifth, whom he told to look up Mr. King and remember him to his old classmate, and an invitation to supper was the outcome of it. So the Doctor got the old Captain for a body guard, and more solid fun was put on the board than the program called, for broiled ham and roast potatoes, bread and oleomargarine, with coffee like your mother makes, dished up in pint cups that hold a quart. Desert spoons are only used. Teaspoons will do for people with small mouths and no appetite. The party broke up with a final vote to meet on the same ground next year.

REQUISITION

Granted by the Governor for Abraham but Not for the Young Boy—A West Virginia Case.

A hearing was had before Governor Nash at Camp McKinley on Wednesday afternoon on a requisition from the Governor of West Virginia for the custody of Ahmad Joseph and George Abraham. Mr. Davis, chief of police of Huntington, W. Va., was the officer seeking a requisition and was represented by Senator William Thompson of Cincinnati, as attorney. Ahmad and George are Assyrians, the former being a boy only eleven years old, and the latter a man of twenty-five or thirty. They were charged with the larceny of certain goods in West Virginia, the property of Serrisio Twell, who was represented by Attorneys Stanilus and Fry. Upon the hearing of the application for a requisition Governor Nash refused the requisition so far as the boy Joseph was concerned, but granted it in the case of the man Abraham.

GENERAL M'KINLEY HERE.

General W. V. McMaken got into camp from Toledo today and endorsed the proposition to send all the regiments here for one big division encampment next season. Such a camp will enable comparison of regiments and will give the division officers a chance to earn their salaries. It will be such a camp as has not been seen in Ohio for years. The following year the regiments, according to present ideas, will come separately and the year following they will come in two brigades as they did this year. The officers hope that the next legislature may be induced to make an appropriation that will permit the purchase of some land lying adjacent to the state ground and also allow the erection of a store house and other necessary buildings. With more land and a few dollars put into permanent buildings, Ohio will easily have the model encampment ground of the United States.

Clerks have been busy all day on the muster rolls which will be made up by Saturday, so that there will be no delay in the payment of the soldiers.

The Engineers did the handsome thing last night in entertaining the Governor and tonight they will dine General Speaks and staff.

Captain Henry Ulrich of Youngstown, is here the guest of friends in the Fourth regiment.

Co. C, Fifth regiment, from Cleveland, has the honor of having the largest company in that command in camp. Capt. B. O. Squire says that there are 54 men here besides the two lieutenants, H. J. Latimer and George R. Fairchild, and himself. The company has had but one man in the hospital all week and he was only slightly ill. This company had an orderly at Brigade headquarters yesterday in the person of A. H. McMullen.

Private Henry Hendrichson of C. company, Fifth regiment, has been permanently detailed at Brigade headquarters.

Officers' school in the Eighth regiment last night was productive of especially good results. Weybrecht's talk on battalion movements was right to the point and it showed that he has been studying the problem.

Capt. Henry Ulrichs and six men arrived last night from Youngstown and reported for duty.

Edwin O. Izant of D company of Warren, O., was orderly to the Fifth's regimental adjutant yesterday.

E. P. McCorkle of the Insurance department of Columbus, was in camp yesterday setting up the cigars to the D company boys from Warren.

Private Harry Bennett of D was in the hospital yesterday but his illness is trifling.

BATTERY H CAMP.

Battery H will go into its annual encampment at Camp William McKinley near Newark, August 18, and will remain until August 25. An order to that effect was issued Wednesday. The battery boys will assemble at the armory Sunday, Aug. 17 at 5 o'clock in the morning and will march to camp. Only water, cold tea or coffee, without milk or sugar will be carried in the canteens during the march. The use of water from the wells along the way has been prohibited except when sanctioned by the surgeon. Eighty per cent of the battery's membership was present at Wednesday evening's meeting. That is the largest attendance this year. According to Captain Bush the battery has never been in better condition.—Columbus Press.

RAIN

Has Put Camp in Fine Condition—Some Fifth Regiment Notes of Interest.

Camp McKinley, Aug. 8—The camp was visited by a fine rain last night, which although it was rather wet around the quarters of the men for a little time, was greatly appreciated by all, as the extreme cold of the past few days was telling on the men and with the rain came a warm wave which will be the cause of making all feel better.

Major Rogers of the regular army, made an informal inspection of the ordnance stores of the Fourth regiment this morning.

Thursday evening the Engineers entertained the Governor, Generals Dick and Speaks, together with their respective staffs. The dinner was served in the prettily arranged dining tent of the officers' mess and during the luncheon the band of the battalion gave a pleasing concert.

Short speeches were made by Governor Nash, Generals Dick, Speaks and several other visitors.

Captain Hendry of the Engineers is on duty at the brigade hospital today.

Captain Keller of the Seventh is on duty as medical officer with the Engineer Battalion today in the absence of Captain Hendry.

In the Fifth regiment the officer of the day is Captain Montcastle of Company I, and the officer of the guard is Lieutenant F. H. Waldeck of Company A of Warren.

The old members of Company I of the Fifth, formerly the Lucid Light Guards, will hold a reunion of the members of the old company who are now in the Fifth regiment Saturday afternoon at the headquarters of Company C.

Company D of the Fifth entertained a number of Newark ladies last evening.

Colonel W. W. Donnavan general passenger agent of the Queen & Crescent railroad, was the guest of Company D yesterday.

Senator J. J. Sullivan of Warren, will be the guest of Company D over Sunday.

Capt. Van Gorder was in command of the First battalion of the Fifth in the brigade drill this morning.

Captain C. W. Miller of the honorary staff, was in camp a short time last evening.

In the Fourth rifle shooting this morning Company I of Xenia made the best score on the range, 3 out of a possible 50.

SUDDENLY

Horse Turned and Kicked at Major Davidson, Who Had a Narrow Escape from Injury

Camp McKinley, Aug. 8—Major R. M. Davidson, while visiting camp this morning had a very narrow escape from serious injury. The Major was trying a horse which was not yet used to the saddle, and while standing by the side of the horse, talking to several of the officers, the animal which to that time had showed no signs of being vicious, suddenly turned and kicked at the Major. He was thrown to the ground but rolled far enough away from the heels of the animal to keep from being struck by the flying heels of the horse. Breaking loose, the ani-

the body and bury it without the coffin, and the coffin is taken away and sold. This has become very common about Taileung."

It is impossible to obtain even an approximate estimate of the mortality from plague or cholera or both. The Chinese authorities make no distinction between the diseases, classing them both as "pestilence," and no mortality statistics are gathered. Under such conditions, with plague spreading, together with the fact that cholera is epidemic at Macao, it is not surprising that Hongkong reports increases in both cholera and plague in spite of the rigid quarantine inspection. The spread of both fatal maladies to various parts of the Philippines is a natural consequence. Unless conditions can be improved in southern China it is likely that Manila will be permanently under the shadow of the "black plague."

A GENEROUS EDITOR.

Shamed by a Fake Story in His Own Newspaper.

The following true story of a New York reporter is told by a correspondent.

"As a reporter my friend had not won the regard of his city editor. He frequently failed to return from an assignment with a good story. So when he was told to draw $10 from the office, go out and give it to a man genuinely in need of it and then write, as a social study, the needy man's valuation of current reports of abounding prosperity in the county my friend thought he had a task that was easy, but organized charity would not, because of principle, encourage such indiscriminate giving and refused to tell of any one who was in extremity. Going down to the Bowery, the reporter questioned a policeman and was directed to a certain tenement. When he got there, the man had been dispossessed and had taken his family out of the neighborhood. After no success

ADVOCATE

Guessing Contest!

CLOSES AT 9 P. M. SATURDAY NIGHT, AUGUST 16.

Great interest has been aroused in the Advocate's Guessing Contest as is evidenced by the many guesses that are daily received on the blank coupons clipped from copies of the Advocate.

Many people are guessing two or three times. One may guess as often as he wishes, providing each guess is accompanied by payment for five weeks' subscription to the paper.

REMEMBER, $200.00

Has been deposited by the Advocate for free distribution among readers of this paper who make the best guesses on the actual population of Newark on June 1, 1902. The one who makes the best guess will be given $50, second $25, third $20, fourth $15, fifth $10, to the next five nearest $5 each, to the next ten nearest $2.50 each, and to the next fifteen nearest $2 each.

THIRTY-FIVE CASH PRIZES

Aggregating $200, given free to Advocate readers, who are required only to pay the sum they may owe for back subscription and five weeks in advance for the paper.

In case of a tie prizes will be divided equally.

Guess as often as you wish. For every 50 cents paid on advance subscription to the Daily Advocate you may have one guess.

In 1890 Newark had 14,289 people and in 1900 the official census was 18,157. What is the population June 1, 1902? The census is being carefully and accurately taken by experienced men. No person in the Advocate's employ knows anything about the census returns and no employee is permitted to enter the contest.

Sergeant Major Robert Lytle of the First battalion of the Fourth, is acting regimental sergeant major today.

IN THE FOURTH.

The celebrated McDonald-McNaughten Hoochie-Coochie band of the Fourth did considerable business at the Fourth regiment camp during the night, having been engaged for thirteen hours or more by the Society for the Prevention of Sleep, which had a social session. Commissary Manny-penny was so gently initiated into the mysteries of the club that he slept an hour or two on his cot out in one of the company streets before he knew he was a full fledged member. Lt. Jack Graham of the 22d infantry, U. S. A. deserted the Night Owl club last night and went to bed early.

AMUSEMENTS.

Maange Lungafelter in order to keep abreast with all that is new and up-to-date, secured the newest and greatest feature of the season in the "Cycle Whirl," an entirely new feature that has never before been given outside of Eastern resorts. This will be a free outside attraction all next week at popular Idlewild Park, and consists of a track arranged at an angle of 95 degrees. The performers ride in opposite directions and do some wonderful and daring trick and fancy riding. It is an act so perilous that at times it fairly takes the breath of the audience. The riders defy the laws of gravitation and do one of the most daring acts ever attempted on bicycles. The track will be raised inside the old saucer track, the whole brilliantly lighted and will be a feature well worth seeing. This is a free outdoor attraction at Idlewild all of next week.
